

About us

Humana People to People India (HPPI) is a development organisation. Our core programme areas are Education, Health, Environmental Sustainability and Livelihood and Community Development. HPPI is working with the public health and education systems, creating environmental sustainability and generating sustainable livelihood options.

We are celebrating our 25th anniversary in 2023. HPPI's work, since its inception in 1998, has reached 35 million people in 10,000 villages and cities in collaboration with 250 Partners. In 2022-23, we have worked in more than 100 project units, in rural and urban areas, in 15 states reaching out to around 3 million people.

HPPI's programmes are aligned with the Government of India's Development Agenda and the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals.

HPPI is a non-political, non-religious body that works as part of civil society to strengthen the capacities of underprivileged people and communities to create better lives.

Education

Every Child is a Wonder!

All children deserve quality education as a foundation for health and happiness in life as well as to build capability to face the challenges of the 21st century.

Our education projects and programmes are designed for children and youth aged 3-16 years. Through our Kadam step up programme we work directly with out-of-school children and with teachers and children in schools to enhance their learning levels and improve the quality of education.

We also work with the state governments to improve the quality of teacher training through the Necessary Teacher Training (NeTT) Programme implemented in District Institutes of Education and Training (DIETs).

We are specifically focusing on making quality education available for children and youth from poor and marginalised communities, where it is most needed.

Health

HPPI through its health programmes reaches and serves hundreds and thousands of underprivileged, marginalised and ultra-poor people across the country. Our projects are aligned with the country's priorities and directives in healthcare.

While our efforts towards supporting mothers' and children's healthcare is in full swing, HPPI's endeavours supporting the elimination of chronic communicable diseases like TB and HIV/AIDS have also been consolidated in the last few years. Our work towards TB elimination includes comprehensive, context-specific, and urban-based TB detection and care models for the ultra-poor people living in slums, on the streets and in informal settlements in the megacities.

Maternal, Newborn, Child Health & Nutrition (MNCHN)

HPPI strategically bolsters the health systems for improving healthcare through awareness and mobilisation of families in the communities as well as by enhancing capacity of the frontline workers.

Our work towards strengthening the Anganwadi Centres (AWCs) as the frontline key service-delivery units located at every village for small children and women for making primary healthcare services is significant.

Across all projects, we work for strengthening structures through community groups like village sanitation groups, slum development committees, children’s, adolescents’ and women’s clubs, among others. This enables us to scale up initiatives in a cost-effective manner and work for long-term sustainability and local ownership.
